

Simply Living
presents the film

the Economics of Happiness

Sunday, January 19, 2:00 pm

Northwood-High Building
2231 N. High St., Columbus 43201

Admission: Free + Free Parking in Rear

This award-winning film reveals the dark underbelly of the global consumer society and documents the rapid emergence of a new worldwide economy rooted in sustainable cultural practices.

Produced by the International Society for Ecology and Culture.

A powerful new film that cuts deeply to the heart of the global crisis. Magnificent!"

– David Suzuki, television host and environmentalist

"It presents the localization movement as a systemic alternative to corporate globalization, as well as a strategy that brings community and meaning to our lives."

– Joanna Macy, author of World as Lover, World as Self

"It is the small, local economies around the world that are preserving traditions, cultures, and communities, and ultimately safeguarding our happiness."

– Alice Waters, chef, author, and the proprietor of Chez Panisse

www.SimplyLiving.org

Simply Living
presents the film

the Economics of Happiness

Sunday, January 19, 2:00 pm

Northwood-High Building
2231 N. High St., Columbus 43201

Admission: Free + Free Parking in Rear

This award-winning film reveals the dark underbelly of the global consumer society and documents the rapid emergence of a new worldwide economy rooted in sustainable cultural practices.

Produced by the International Society for Ecology and Culture.

A powerful new film that cuts deeply to the heart of the global crisis. Magnificent!"

– David Suzuki, television host and environmentalist

"It presents the localization movement as a systemic alternative to corporate globalization, as well as a strategy that brings community and meaning to our lives."

– Joanna Macy, author of World as Lover, World as Self

"It is the small, local economies around the world that are preserving traditions, cultures, and communities, and ultimately safeguarding our happiness."

– Alice Waters, chef, author, and the proprietor of Chez Panisse

www.SimplyLiving.org