Senate Elections

There were 9 Applicants and two of them withdrew prior to the election. All candidates were contesting for the two open positions regardless of their College. They spoke alphabetically.

Bhuyan
Dodd
Hayens
Lopez
Messer

(The above 5 were not present for the election and neither did they send out their speech)

Kerry Hodak explained about the absence and clarified that the absence was not because of lack of communication.

Perkins.442 – Phd Candidate in Molecular Biology. Running for Biological sciences open seat. She is from Nevada and did her undergrad from ASU in biological sciences. Joined OSU in 2013. She has taken on several leadership roles to broaden her horizon and increase diversity. She served as the President of the student group in the department. Been a member of CGS for a year. Served on Ray travel award and student leadership award committee. Taught science in local middle and elementary schools. Would like to be a voice for the grad students.
Interested in GCBC, COAM, CSA.

Rawat.26- From India. Travelling across the world – father in merchant navy. Has experience in fundraising for cancer drives, counselling for youths. Has done her undergrad in engineering and is pursuing masters in HR. Has a good understanding of STEM and business. President Drake's 2020 vision resembles that of her own.

Wan.96- 6th year grad student in molecular genetics. Was there for the meeting even though he was not a member for the past year. He is from China. Served on the organization committee during undergrad. Doesn't have much leadership experience in OSU and hence wants to apply.

15 minutes Q and A –

Velez.71- Elaborate your experience with student life. How will you juggle the duties of senator and personal life?

Wan.96 – During undergrad – served 4 years for student life – VP for class of 30 students – representing them (similar to CGS). As a senior grad student he is used to working in labs. He attends meeting without being a delegate. Member of ISCC committee.

Rawat.26 – Organized cultural and sports events (plan and figure out logistics). Involved in conflict resolution and also served on Non-profit org. Prepared workshops for teachers and psychologist. She has a flexible schedule. Will work on weekends. Doesn't workout. Mornings are very free.

Perkins.442 – Served as a delegate last year and this year. Member of exec board of the dept. Was also its president. Initiated community outreach program for under privileged children. Used to stress and balancing life – not unfamiliar area for her. She'll be free from her presidential duties in September.

Serai.1 – what drives you to be a senator?

Motion to extend the time 10 mins- Puthawala.1 and rivera.252 second the motion. Anderson. 2299 objected to the motion. Walterbush called for a vote. The motion was passed 10 mins was added to the Q and A session.

Perkins – likes giving back to the community. She'll gain more diversity on a personal level by being a senator. Interested in working in small universities and being a part of committees and organizations. Good opportunity for career development.

Rawat – Courage and challenge drive her to work towards what she wants.

Wan – Really enjoys interacting with other students. Wants to be a part of international student's concern committee.

Reed Kurt.305 – What are your views on OSU's decision to privatize parking and energy management?
Rawat – privatization is going to help with better management. If it's not going to do that then it's a bad idea for osu.

Wan – privatization of parking was bad. Campus PARC gets 1 star in customer service. Almost impossible to park without an A parking permit. Parking spots haven't been increased. Going to change parking permit because he can't afford the parking fee anymore. Wasn't aware about energy mgmt.

Perkins – Agrees with Wan. University should take measures that benefit the students. Been an issue parking on the campus. Lots are closing and more spaces are not being provided. Concerned about finding spots for medical people. Not for the privatization of parking.

Smith.11346 – what's the greatest strength in one word that you bring to this position?

Wan - motivation

Rawat – empathy

Perkins – leadership

Rivera. 252 – Are u available during senate meetings – all replied yes.

Without objection the body went into Executive Session Candidates left room – only voting members will stay in room.

Walterbush called the body back into regular session. Motion to remove absent candidates from the ballot made by Delegate Puthawala.1, seconded by Delegate Gumpper.1. Motion was approved unanimously.

Officer Reports

President's Report

- Last week it was indicated that there were elevated levels of lead in water of some units in Buckeye village. He began working on the matter as soon as he received word about it from International Student Concerns Chair Wirza.1. He's met with several university leaders including President Drake and all are taking the matter very seriously. There do appear to be some communication challenges which add to residents' stress and concern. Some of the communication issues are getting resolved. Asked health and wellness committee to look into it and present a report in September on how to be better prepared for such incidents.

- Several GAs were having issues with late fee authorization and were concerned about health insurance and credit hour enrollment. Dean is aware that the problem exists and they are fixing people's account individually. Leadership have set up committees to resolve the issue. Samuel Jordan.194 is the person who does the fix.
- During the meeting with Dr. Drake, he expressed interest in speaking during the November Delegate meeting. Bowers announced that meeting will be held in Law School. In their meeting President Drake provided assurance of his and the institution's support for everybody's first amendment right (protected speech)) and he noted that expulsion is not an automatic result of breaking rules while protesting.
- In October there is going to be 4-5 opportunities to get to know other delegates and officers over pizza.

Guest speaker - Dr. Scott Herness, Interim Dean of the Graduate School

Grad school is funding the increase in minimum stipend increase. 35% of the GAs were making less than $15,000. He wants to work collaboratively and constructively with the GCBC and other committees towards making grad student life better. He wants to push for professional development of the grad students and legitimize it on transcripts. He plans on developing a couple of GISs for professional development. He wants to increase diversity of the grad student population. The provost would like to have campus wide conversations and one of the topics is futuring and envisioning a better graduate student life.

He opened the floor for Q and A

Q - Comment on GTAs and GRAs having collective bargaining power as employees of the university.

A - This doesn't directly affect us. We have had a track history of working together and achieving the desired results. We will work collectively to be the leader of the big 10.

Q – How is the grad school defining diversity? (Delaney.1)

A – Diversity scholarship defines diversity broadly. They have increased the number of scholarships. To define diversity they are trying to see where there is a need to increase diversity. Data on historically under-represented population is being looked into while making the decision.

Q- Velez.71 – what kind of program would you vision to create for the selected students for the diversity scholarship where they will feel safe and are mentally prepared for the grad life?

A – He wants the students to let him know. We wants students not only to survive but thrive in grad school. He is struggling with how to come up with programs that connect students. There is no big disconnect between scholarships given and retention.

Q – It feels like diversity does not include us. We are all in a box and not included in the community.

A – That is not true but it could feel like that. Did a survey of international grad student to understand their experience. He works with OIA and student life to improve things. He recognizes that we are a global institution. Facilitating the interaction between domestic and international students is mutually beneficial.

Q – Gumper.1- Colleagues might be interested in talking about diversity. What is your dot number?

A – Herness.1. Would love to learn more from the grad students.

Q – wirza.1 – What does 20 hours per week work load entail? Students don't know their rights.

A – He was aware that there have been several occasions when grad school had to intervene. If you are working more than 20 hours – talk to mentor or go to grad studies chair. If no assistance is provided approach grad school – they have resources and personnel to deal with that.

Wants to hear more from the students.

Vice President's Report

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned without objection

Greetings and welcome to the end of September! I'll use this update to provide a summary regarding local and national level advocacy agenda items of which you might not have been aware as we move forward. One of the national student advocacy groups to which CGS belongs is National Association of Graduate and Professional Students (NAGPS). As chair of the Midwest Region's Legislative Affairs committee, I recently attended the NAGPS Fall Advocacy meeting. In a nutshell there are 4 major areas on which NAGPS is working: Student Debt, Visa Reform, Open Access and Federal funding for Higher Ed. The major positions on each are as follows:

Graduate Student Loans Debt

1. Reunify the undergraduate and graduate rates to reverse the current inequalities
2. Reinstate graduate-professional students' eligibility for subsidized loans

Open Access

Support efforts that ensures public access to research that has been funded through taxpayer dollars.

Higher Education Funding

Support efforts to:

1. Increases and sustains research funding to the NSF, NIH, national labs, and other federal research agencies to account for budget caps and sequestration cuts
2. Reinstates and ensures future NSF funding for all types of political science research
3. Restores funding for the Javits and GAANN fellowship programs to $39 million

Student Visas

Support a bipartisan approach to immigration reform. Specifically, seek:

1. Allow for domestic re-validation of F-type student visas
2. Increases the number of visas and green cards available to non-US born graduate and professional students

In addition to these issues, NAGPS discussed concerns regarding possible complications to institutions' funding of graduate associate insurance premiums as a result of new federal regulations. Several institutions, including our own, continue to work on this matter. I expect that we'll know more after the general election.

Locally, although not something that often draws close attention by many students, this is the year that we review the Code of Student Conduct for potential updates and changes.

Responsibility for this process resides in the Council on Student Affairs. CGS has 3 representatives to that body and I am serving on the ad hoc committee to review the Code. It might not be the most stimulating read, but I strongly encourage you to read the Code and let me know of any questions or concerns that might arise for you. There were some changes made in late August. The current version of the Code is available at

<http://trustees.osu.edu/rules/code-of-student-conduct/>

Another major agenda item for this year is the visioning of the future of graduate education that our new Provost has called for. I met with him a couple of weeks ago to discuss this. Prior to launching into the search for a new dean of the graduate school, Dr. McPheron has asked that a review of planning and visioning be done. He has asked interim dean Dr. Scott Herness to lead that process. I expect to hear more from dean Herness early next week and look forward to sharing more details with the delegate body at our September meeting.

I look forward to seeing you at our September meeting. OSU's Chief of Police, Craig Stone, has asked to stop in and briefly address the Delegate body. In addition, we'll hear a brief presentation of resources available to grad students through UCAT. Finally, we'll also have the opportunity to welcome some of our newly elected delegates as we hear a report from our Fall elections.

As always, thank you, both for your work on behalf of our fellow students and for allowing me to serve as your president!

CGS Treasurer's Report

Date: Friday, September 23, 2016

CGS Budget, July 1 – August 31, 2016

Attached you will find the budget report that I have put together for your review. It reflects the transactions CGS has incurred between July 1 and August 31. The report is broke into incomes and expenses. Fiscal year 2017 began on July 1, 2016 and lasts until June 30, 2017. There are two columns on the right side of the page. In the first column, you will find the proposed budgetary amounts for incomes and expenses that were approved during the June 24, 2016 delegate meeting. The second column shows the actual incomes and expenses that CGS has incurred since the start of the fiscal year. Please note that under the income section, we have not received the distribution for the Global Gateway fund yet (which is normal) and we are still exploring options for funding of the possible NAGPS regional meeting here at OSU.

Ray Travel Award Committee

On September 16, 2016, the Ray Travel Award Committee convened. We discussed the possibility of holding a Ray Travel Award Reception and determined that sometime in the Spring Semester 2017 would be best so that we have enough time to plan the event accordingly. Other than that, the new committee members watched the training videos to prepare for reviewing applications when funding period 3 concludes on November 1, 2016. Speaking of which, we are always looking for additional volunteers to review applications. If you are interested please let me know and I'll be happy to meet with you to get you up to speed.

ICC September 2016 Report

The committee had its first meeting on Sept. 13 to plan the committee's programs for the year. We have identified six projects (BV lead contamination, ESL assessments, career opportunities for international students and graduates, students with multiple last names, and practice driving space) and a couple more under our radar to follow up. We decided to work in small teams in tackling these projects to accommodate member's interests and availability. We are now at the stage of studying the issues at hand but some are already underway to investigate them further.

We welcome other delegates to join us. Email me at wirza.1@osu.edu

CGS Health and Wellness Committee September 2016 Report

Spring Health and Wellness 5K and Resource Fair. This is a “take 2” of an event we tried to put together last year. The H&W would like to host an event that allows people to be active, eat healthy, and learn about all other health and wellness related resources – financial counseling, wellness coaching, counseling services, etc. – that are available to graduate students on campus. We are planning the event for late March/early April. More details to come!

Group Fitness Classes at the RPAC. Have you ever tried to go to a group fitness class at the RPAC but realized you were about 30 minutes late to waiting in line for an hour prior to the class just to get a spot? It has been brought to our attention that this is a real issue for graduate students who simply cannot leave the lab to go sit in line for an hour for a fitness class. As a committee, we are exploring this as an issue. We have requested undergrad vs. grad attendance data at the classes to determine if there is a particular time of day that this is an issue. From there we will work with the group fitness staff at recreation services to come up with a solution.

Meditation and Mental Health. Members of the H&W committee are exploring opportunities to engage more graduate students in meditation and mental health exercises to help contribute to overall health and wellness. More information to come.

Buckeye Village Updates.

- Water testing has been completed at Buckeye Village.
- Water testing process: 1) All fixtures in all units were tested – flush and non-flush. Conducting both flush (allowing water to run and then collecting a sample of water) and non-flush (collecting an immediate sample of water without letting the water run) testing allows for some indication of the source of the lead – fixtures vs. more upstream in the piping. Two independent companies – Masi and Alloway – tested samples for each unit. Masi’s testing procedures are sensitive enough to detect <5 ppb units of lead in the water and Alloway’s testing procedures are sensitive enough to detect <2 ppb units of lead in the water. 2) For any apartment that tested >5 ppb (FDA threshold guideline), fixtures were changed and re-tested.
- At this time, aggregate results are not available, but residents are aware of their results on an individual basis. For residents who have moved apartments within Buckeye Village, they were provided results for every unit in which they have lived. An anecdotal, rough statistic of 10% affected apartments was given.
- For any apartments that tested positive, residents were given a voucher for blood testing. Five, 3-hour blood testing drives were held at Buckeye Village. Efforts are being made to assure that residents understand how to read their test results to determine if any blood levels come back high.
- All apartments will be receiving filters for potable water sources. Replacing filters and any maintenance issues with these filters should be addressed through the standard Buckeye Village maintenance request system.
- Any past residents of Buckeye Village who request information regarding their apartments are provided that information. The university is still developing a plan as to how to contact other previous residents that have not independently inquired.
- Residents with any questions should direct them to Cat Geletka at buckeyevillage@osu.edu.
